

The Council of Hong Kong Professional Associations (COPA)

The Council of Hong Kong Professional Associations (COPA) is a newly established organization comprising professional bodies and professionals from different sectors in Hong Kong. It aims to become a significant platform for professional bodies to consult and collaborate, thereby contributing to the promotion of professionalism and sustained development of professional human resources in Hong Kong.

After more than a year of detail discussion within HKIES managerial council, we finally decided to step ahead to join the COPA and expected that this involvement in COPA can help our institution to grow up in richer dimension.

More information about COPA can be found at their web site:
