The Hong Kong Institution of Engineering Surveyors

The Hong Kong Institution of Engineering Surveyors (HKIES) was formed in 1996. The primary objective of the Institution is to represent members of the engineering surveying profession in Hong Kong for the benefit of its members and the public. Other objects are:

- To provide members with qualification recognised by the industry.
- To promote, upgrade and maintain high standard of practice and professional conduct for the benefit of the public.
- To organise lectures, seminars, conferences and functions on topic of technical interest.
- To engage in activities in conjunction with other Institutions or Associations.

Membership

The Institution offers five classes of membership namely Student, Licentiate, Associate, Member, and Fellow for application. Grades of membership will be granted depending on qualification and experience. Applicants are advised to read the route to the membership as indicated below before filling the form.
